PRIVATE CLEVELAND COLLECTORS EXHIBIT RECENT ACQUISITIONS

Modern art recently acquired by 21 Cleveland collectors is shown in an exhibit opening Tuesday, July 11 in Gallery 26 of The Cleveland Museum of Art. The nearly 30 works, including paintings, collages, sculpture, drawings and mixed media, will be on view through September 10. Each work displayed is an example of the study, preference and oftentimes sacrifice put forth in forming a personal collection.

The exhibit represents collections both large and small, and contains varying degrees of avant-garde work executed over a period of the past half-century by the following artists: Mary Bauermeister, Harry Bertoia, Renato Birolli, Julius Bissier, Georges Braque, Juan Luis Bunuel, Lynn Chadwick, Alan Davie, Piero Dorazio, Helen Frankenthaler, Edward Higgins, Gyorgy Kepes, Fernand Léger, Otto Logo, Joan Miro, Robert Motherwell, Louise Nevelson, Pablo Picasso, Kurt Schwitters, Nicholas Vasilieff, Esteban Vicente, Jacques Villon and Adja Yunkers.
